MONDAY MORNING NOV 16, 186.

How Democracy aids the Rebels

Northern Democrats profess great indignation, when they are told that the course which they are pursuing tends directly and necessarily to give aid and comfort to the rebellion They do not like the reputation of treason, though the disguise of their real sentiments when intelligence of rebel victories or Federal defeat comes to us is, in too many cases, very thin and transparent But in spite of their professions and pretences, they cannot deny or fail to see that their proceedings are watched with welcome and earnest interest by the rebel leaders, and are regarded by them as entirely auxiliary to their own treasonable purposes Every Democratic success since the war began, has been hailed in Richmond, as a proof that the power and authority of the National Government are waning and weakening, and that Secession has friends at the North who sympathize with its movements and its progress Very recently, the ingrate double-dyed traitor Maury wrote to the London Times, that there was a peace party at the North, and that "all the embarrassments with which that party can surround Mr Lincoln, and all the difficulties that it can throw in the way of the war party of the North operate directly as so much aid and comfort to the South," thereby plainly showing to the world that the States in rebellion regard the peace Democracy not merely as being friendly to them, but as actually co operating with and assisting them in their nefarious schemes to destroy the Government, and to blast the Nation's integrity and life And in this, they are right, as Maury was right in his declaration Democrats, who for political ends, obstruct and hinder the Government in any way whatever, while it is striving to put down the rebellion, or who "throw difficulties in the way of the war party of the North," are just as efficient supporters as the rebels can want The aid and support derived from such action is quite and fully as essential and beneficial as if rendered with arms and artillery on the battle-field, for it must be apparent, that at the moment when such action controls the North, the war must stop and the South, being "let alone," will fully accomplish its purpose, and become independent

Honest Democrats, who profess to be patriotic, and yet cannot, for the present and while their country is agonizing for deliverance from the terrible perils which threaten it, give up their party allegiance—ought to consider their position and the tendency and consequence of their infatuated love of party It is putting them in the ranks of the Nation's enemies and destroyers They are even now counted as the allies of rebellion, and their sympathy and support are expected and regarded as means to aid in accomplishing the ruin of the Republic

VIPER GNAWING AT A FILE —The Mountaineer fellows want to be kicked into notice, but we have neither time nor inclination to gratify them If they are sincere in their present professions of love to the Union, we are glad of it, and will cheerfully try to forget that they rejoiced loudly last fall at the success of Seymour and the Peace Democracy, and declared after the result was known that "if the abolitionists had succeeded in the late elections to the extent of their confident expectations, we should have had dark misgivings as to the future of our country, but we now feel that a weight is lifted from our hearts " Of course, they are ready to take all that back now, in their righteous zeal, the "dark misgivings" have not, we suppose, visited them, as they have heard the glad tidings of the defeat throughout the North of their so recently admired Democratic friends But had they not better learn to "go a little slower?"

THANKS —We are indebted to Mr Austin, of Tracy & Co 's Express, for a late number of the Boise News of November 3d, from which we learn that Wallace's majority in Boise county is 425 The vote in Bannock City precinct was, for Wallace 1,446 for Cannady 1,173, together making the large poll of 2 619 votes The Union county ticket was of course successful

Of the weather, the News says

It began to snow on Friday last, and has continued at intervals ever since and yet there is only about an inch and a half of snow on the ground at the present writing The weather is beginning to be intensely cold, water freezes very hard every night, and the hill side between our office and Main street every morning and evening is so slick that only sober men are able to climb it

UNREASONABLE ABUSE — In the course of a recent speech at St Louis, Frank Blair denounced the able and upright Secretary of the Treasury as "but little better than Jeff Davis because in accordance with the advice of Gen Grant, the Secretary had placed restrictions upon the trade of the Mississippi Blair holds the commission of Major General, and is a brother of the Postmaster General He abuses in the coarsest language the personnel and the policy of the Administration for not permitting an unlimited traffic with negroes in rebellion, yet is patronized by the President and controls the Federal appointments in Missouri The Union men of that State have a right to complain —S F Journal

Proclamation by the Governor of Oregon

In accordance with the prevalent usage in many of the States of this Union and also with the Proclamation of the President of the United States I Addison C Gibbs Governor of the State of Oregon do hereby appoint Thursday, the twenty sixth day of November inst as a day of Public Thanksgiving and Prayer to Almighty God He has granted us abundant harvests health has prevailed in all our borders, and plenteousness in all our dwellings The terrible calamities of insurrection invasion and civil war have been averted while the blessings and arts of peace have flourished among us

Besides these common and special reasons for gratitude there are those of a more general and equally significant character on sea and land the national arms have been triumphant our soldiers have proved themselves valiant and enduring the free institutions bequeathed us by our fathers are still preserved to us, and they live too strongly in the affections of the American people to be seriously endangered by domestic treason or by foreign invasion, and while the expenses of the general Government in putting forth the necessary naval and military power to suppress this most gigantic and atrocious rebellion in the history of the world are extraordinary mineral resources of unequalled richness and extent have been developed on this coast and in this State For these great blessings which are lustrous even in the dark night of treason and rebellion for the loyalty of the great body of the American people for the victories of our armies and navy as well the moral triumphs achieved since the present rebellion began, together with the ordinary gifts of a munificent Providence, it is fitting to cherish devout gratitude to God

I therefore invite and recommend the good people of Oregon to suspend their ordinary business on the day designated and assemble at appropriate places of convocation to offer praise to God, to exercise repentance before Him for our sins and to engage in earnest supplication for His blessings still to attend us And it is also further recommended that as on former similar occasions they practically remember the wants of the wounded and suffering soldiers of the Union, in the field and in the camp

{ L S } In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of State to be affixed this 14th day of November A D 1863

ADDISON C GIBBS

By the Governor
SAMUEL E MAY, Secretary of State

HOW FERNANDO WOOD WAS DRIED UP — Just before or during the late riots in New York, Mr Wood made one of his characteristic speeches, which evidently aided in inciting the disorder that disgraced the city and stained it with the blood of many innocent victims

The treasonable speech was fully reported at headquarters at Washington, whereupon Fernando received a dispatch stating that his presence was desired at the Federal metropolis He went there at once and was met by a tall, somewhat rough but honest man, who has had extensive legal practice in Western courts, by whom he was taken to a private room

Holding in one hand a paper, the tall man pointed with his long, bony finger to a paragraph, and said, "Mr W , did you say that? " The Gothamite responded affirmatively "And did you say that, and that and that? " continued the old lawyer, pointing to different paragraphs "I did " somewhat hesitatingly answered the leader of the intensified "Enough" said the inquisitive gentleman, "those are treasonable words, and you are liable to arrest and trial, and if found guilty, to death Have a care, stop such utterances, or you have my word that justice shall not be allowed to slumber "

Fernando came home a more thoughtful if not a wiser or a better man He has made no speeches since The draft was to be enforced in this city upon a population with a portion of which his word was law Should he remain there he might be called upon to speak by those whose demands are imperative —who would return curses and brickbats for silence To refuse to speak to and for them, would destroy his influence forever A virtue was made of necessity

THE WORKING OF THE CONSCRIPTION IN MAINE —A Dr Joab Brown, of Liberty, Maine, a great war patriot, has been recently detected in giving his patients piles, to free them from the draft, for which prescription he received fifty dollars The Belport Maine Journal says

The mode of the Doctor is said to have been to inject some irritating medicine, usually Croton oil, until the effect was produced One bad feature of his practice, so far as the patients are concerned is the fact that some of his causes for exemption designed to be temporary have become permanent the conscripts thus getting more than they bargained for, and a difficulty that no three hundred dollars will remove Under what law it is proposed to punish the Doctor, we cannot say The conscription law makes provision for punishing those who shall resist it, or counsel others to resist, but not a word about Croton oil Perhaps the accused may be arraigned before a court martial of moustaches and shoulder straps charged with assaulting the peace and dignity of the United States with a syringe, with treasonably aiding J Davis by the administering of irritating cathartics to the loyal subjects of the North, and thus setting a back fire in his aid as effectual as Gilmore's incendiary shells But whatever may be the Doctor's fate his claim to a great medical discovery cannot be doubted for the verdict that records his condemnation will award to him the palm Jenner applied vaccination and Harvey discovered circulation but we find no record of any one who has before applied the Doctor's ingenious expedient.

NATIONAL AND REBEL CAVALRY COMPANIES — The Examiner is ashamed of the rebel cavalry It says "Our cavalry fell back" is becoming too familiar in the Army of Northern Virginia Nobody expects "our cavalry" now to do anything but fall back The time was when Stuart's cavalry fancied that the clumsy Yankees unused to horseback could not rival, much less surpass it But such is the lamentable fact Since Kelley's Ford and the great review at Culpepper Court House for the benefit of the ladies our cavalry has gone under and we have been forced to the shameful admission that Yankee tailors and shoemakers on horseback are superior to the cavaliers of the South Certainly the cavalry engagements of the last six months have ended with the same old song— Our cavalry fell back.

It is a terrible thought to remember that nothing can be forgotten I have somewhere read that not an oath is uttered that does not continue to vibrate through all time in the wide-spreading current of sound—not a prayer lisped that its record is not to be found stamped on the laws of nature by the indelible seal of the Almighty will —Cooper

WHAT A TEXAN SAYS —A loyal Texan is opposed to emancipation because "in 6 months after you give the negro the right to vote, half the Democratic politicians in the country will go about swearing that they have negro blood in their veins

G M DALLAS —George M Dallas, who has been a Democratic Vice President a Democratic United States Senator, and a Foreign Minister under a Democratic Administration, voted the Union ticket in Pennsylvania

(Signed) MEADE.

LATER —Sedgwick reports capturing this afternoon in his operations three Lieut Colonels, a number of other officers and 800 men and four battle flags General French captured 400 officers and men and drove the enemy across the river.

(Signed) MEADE.

DISCOVERIES —The first intimation that gold existed in Eastern Oregon Washington, and what is now Idaho Territories, by a white man, is said to have come from Capt Pierce, from whom Pierce City since took its name As early as 1852 while on a trading expedition with the Nez Perces he became satisfied that this was a gold bearing country, but the hostility of the Indians prevented him in various attempts to test the truth of his belief until as late as 1860 while, in the meantime, when the Captain resided in California Mr Robbins of Portland, purchased ten dollars worth of gold dust from a Spokane Indian in 1854, which led to prospecting in that country, and in 1855, some Frenchmen and half breeds from Oregon, struck the Colville mines During this year the Indian war very nearly put a stop to prospecting until as late as '58 when Capt Pierce again arrived in the country, and attempted to prospect the Nez Perces country, but found the Indians hostile and suspended operations, until 1860, when a party of some ninety men went into the Oro Fino district, and finding—as they anticipated—good diggings, they wintered there. In 1861 Oro Grande and South Clearwater were discovered and late in the fall the rich Salmon river placers During the year 1861 valuable deposits were developed on Powder John Day's and Burnt rivers and in 1862 the greatest and most important mineral district of all was brought to light in the discovery of the Boise basin, meanwhile Beaver Head and Big Hole were found, east of the Rocky mountains —Boise News

EXPRESS SALE —Tracy & Co have disposed of their Express between Portland and the Northern mines to Wells, Fargo & Co for the sum of $3,000, conditioned that T & Co do not establish another line for six months from the date of the sale We could hardly conceive a more potent argument in favor of the richness and permanence of our Northern gold mines, than is presented in this fact It is pretty certain that a business House of the tact and experience of Wells, Fargo & Company would not pay such a sum to secure the ... of any one other company, with a continued restraint for only six months—and those more than two thirds the winter or non paying period—unless they were somewhat familiar with the resources of the route, and were confident of realizing a handsome percentage on their investment They know the country and can comprehend the immense amount of business which will be derived from the multitude of miners and others who will next year populate that section of the mines

BACK AGAIN —Messrs Tracy, Myrick and [illegible], of this city, returned last Saturday from their exploring and prospecting trip to the Owyhee Valley We have not learned what was the result of their visit, but we are quite sure, if anything in that region was worth discovering, that they could hardly fail to find it

GOLD DUST —The steamer Wilson G Hunt brought down in private hands more than one hundred thousand dollars on Saturday night One hundred and fifty passengers came down, eight of whom had three hundred pounds between them and several others had nice little "stakes" Wells, Fargo & Company received $40,000

TWO SQUARES TO THE FRONT —We observe the large two story blacksmith shop of Messrs Marble & Letts, which was wont to occupy the corner of Second and Yambill streets, now doing guard duty across Second street, where it was obliged to rest over the Sabbath and until some heavier timbers can be placed underneath, when it will be permanently located on the levee side of Front street

SERIOUS "MISUNDERSTANDING " — We are told that a difficulty occurred on First street, yesterday morning, between a negro and a white man, in which the former pushed and also used abusive language to the latter The white man procured a pistol and went "hunting" after the intelligent contraband who was locked up—whether for protection or punishment we did not learn

"CONSOLIDATION "—It would seem that the winds of March and the showers of April had joined forces and agreed to go on a bender late in the evening of this year Yesterday they were evidently "out of joint." The winds amused themselves by denuding trees, chasing the yellow leaves until they found refuge under the lee of human shelters, and the sun smiled brightly to see great rain-drops sink to rest in the third story flower-beds of Sunday go-to-meeting bonnets The pleasantest place away from home, yesterday—as it should be every Sabbath—was in church

DETENTION —We are requested to announce that Rev Father Macken, being unavoidably detained in Portland for an unlimited time on account of important business, his appointment as Pastor of the Church of St Joseph, Jacksonville, has been revoked, and that another priest has been appointed in his stead, viz Rev Father Francis Xaverius Blanchet, who left for his mission by the stage on Saturday morning

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION —We would call attention to the Proclamation of His Excellency, Gov Gibbs, appointing Thursday, Nov 26th, as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer

THE COMPROMISING LOYALTY of a certain class of politicians was illustrated in the following manner by Hon D S Dickson, in his speech in New York city on Saturday evening

It is a question between the Government and the Rebellion It has been nothing else, it is nothing else, and it never will be anything else, and you may baptize it at the font of infidel politics as often as you choose and when it comes out the same bastard of Rebellion will be seen [Laughter and cheers.] But it is feared by the politicians that some incidents may be drawn in that may be uncomfortable This reminds me of the transmigration philosopher who begged a man to desist from the chastisement of a dog, for, he said, he could recognize in its howl the voice of a deceased friend There are a great many politicians, I think now, who the moment they hear Slavery crying, believe that they hear the voice of a deceased friend [Loud laughter and applause]

EFFECT OF EUROPEAN TRAVEL ON A CLERGYMAN.—Henry Ward Beecher is being educated by his foreign travel and thus announces, in a late letter from Europe to the N Y Independent, the dissipation of one of his prejudices

I am bound to say that I have been agreeably disappointed in the appearance of the monks and priests in Roman Catholic countries As a general rule, they have appeared to be clear-faced, intelligent and sincere men Only once or twice did we meet the legendary type of monk—round fat and worldly In Switzerland and Northern Italy, the impression produced upon me by the priests, has been highly favorable

CHICKAMAUGA —The late battle-field in Georgia is said by a correspondent of the Atlanta (Rebel) Intelligencer, to have extended ten miles and to have exceeded in point of carnage Chancellorsville Gettysburg Murfreesboro or Shiloh The field, by moonlight, is depicted as picturesque and terrible beyond all description—the glittering beams shining on the faces of the dead distorted in expression from the wounds of their torn and mangled bodies with heaps of the wounded and dying, with scattered arms strewn everywhere, with broken artillery carriages and caissons dead horses, and all the debris of a bloodily contested field

Thanksgiving Proclamation.—We would attention to the Proclamation of His Excellency, Gov. Gibbs, appointing Thursday, 26th, as a day of public thanksgiving prayer.

Uncompromising Loyalty of a certain of politicians was illustrated in the following manner by Hon. D. S. Dickson, in speech in New York city on Saturday evening:

A Negro's Idea of Destitution.—A rebel Colonel and his negro servant were lately captured in Arkansas. The latter, describing the wretched condition of the rebel army in that State, said: "They haint got plenty of noffin."

New Store and New Goods.—The NEW FURNITURE WARE ROOMS of HURGREN & SHINDLER will be found on First street between Washington and Alder. Their assortment embraces many goods of a finer quality and design than have ever been imported to this city. They hope that, by an extensive and well-selected stock, by moderate prices together with a long experience in their business, they will retain the increasing patronage which they have enjoyed. Costiveness Cured.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 12, 1858.

Messrs. A. L. Scovill & Co.—Gents: I can hardly able to express my gratitude for the benefit which my daughter has derived from the use of DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS. She had been troubled with what the physicians called the LIVER COMPLAINT; but our doctor failed to give her any permanent relief, although she tried his prescriptions effectually. She had become melancholy, unhappy, and her constitution was much broken down by the use of Mercury. She tried DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, and soon began to get better. I am happy to say that she has entirely recovered her health.

Respectfully yours, JAMES COBB.

A Distressing Headache Cured.

Cincinnati, August 18, 1852.

Messrs. A. L. Scovill & Co.—I have for many years been troubled with severe attacks of headache, which often reduced me to my bed. My sufferings have been very great, and no one can have any idea of their severity except those who have suffered with the same disease. I took your BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, bathed my head with it, and rubbed it in well. I also took, at the same time, one half of a teaspoonful of saleratus dissolved in one-fourth of a tumbler of water. Soon after, I took a second dose of PANACEA, and it was just the thing for all the world, for it knocked the pain crazy, and I have not had the headache since, for whenever I feel it coming on I take the Panacea, which always checks it at once. Stand by the Banner of Columbia

[The following beautiful song, set to the music of the Hallelujah Chorus, was sung, for the first time in this city, at the entertainment given by the [illegible] Society of the Portland Academy a short time since]

Fairest land beneath the sun [illegible] the [illegible]
Given to thy keeping is sweet Liberty [illegible]
O'er no haughty despot shall thy starry banner wave,
'Tis the flag of the brave and free
Chorus—Hurrah for the colors of Columbia!
Hurrah for the colors of Columbia!
Hurrah for the colors of Columbia!
'Tis the flag of the brave and free

Freedom's banner once unfurled [illegible]
'Gainst all rash invaders be our [illegible]
Pride of every freeman and the glory of the world,
Is the flag of the brave and free
Chorus—Hurrah &c

God is with our army [illegible] of the brave
With our gallant navy [illegible] on every wave
"Life without dishonor [illegible]"
Is the motto of each and all
Chorus—Hurrah &c

From the gorgeous firmament we've culled the brightest stars,
Mingled with its azure sky the white and crimson bars
Symbols of fair Liberty its triumph and its [illegible]
'Tis the flag of the brave and free!
Chorus—Hurrah &c

Radiant with glory is the banner we adore
Floating in its beauty o'er our free [illegible] hallowed shore
May our fervent gratitude for freedom's blessings soar
To the fountain of good on high!
Chorus—Hurrah &c

Guide, oh! Father guide us in the path of truth and right
Guard our fearless nation with thine overruling light
Bless our star-gemmed banner make it holy in thy sight
Of thy children forever more
Chorus—Hurrah &c

O'er our country o'er our flag, and o'er our nation's fame,
Watching with a pure delight sweet Freedom's living flame
Dwells our sainted Washington We glorify his name
With the flag of the brave and free!
Chorus—Hurrah! &c

A Connecticut Yankee who went to see the Queen.

Nathaniel Hawthorne in his amusing account of his "Consular Experiences" at Liverpool, tells the following story

I recollect another case, of a more ridiculous order, but still with a foolish kind of pathos entangled in it, which impresses me now more forcibly than it did at the moment. One day, a queer, stupid good natured, fat-faced individual came into my private room, dressed in a sky-blue, cut away coat and mixed trousers, both garments worn and shabby, and rather too small for his overgrown bulk. After a little preliminary talk, he turned out to be a country shopkeeper, (from Connecticut, I think,) who had left a flourishing business and came over to England purposely, and solely to have an interview with the Queen. Some years before he had named his two children, one for her majesty and the other for Prince Albert, and had transmitted photographs of the little people, as well as of his wife and himself, to the illustrious godmother. The Queen had gratefully acknowledged the favor in a letter under the hand of her private secretary Now, the shopkeeper, like a great many other Americans, had long cherished a fantastic notion that he was one of the rightful heirs of a rich English estate, and on the strength of Her Majesty's letter and the hopes of royal patronage which it inspired, he had shut up his little country store and come over to claim his inheritance On the voyage, a German fellow passenger had relieved him of his money on a pretence of getting it favorably exchanged, and had disappeared immediately on the ship's arrival; so that the poor fellow was compelled to pawn all his clothes except the remarkably shabby ones in which I beheld him, and in which, (as he himself hinted, with a melancholy, yet good natured smile) he did not look altogether fit to see the Queen. I agreed with him that the bobtailed coat and mixed trousers constituted a very odd-looking court-dress, and suggested that is was doubtless his present purpose to get back to Connecticut as fast as possible But no! The resolve to see the Queen was as strong in him as ever, and it was marvellous the pertinacity with which he clung to it amid raggedness and starvation, and the earnestness of his supplication that I would supply him with funds for a suitable appearance at Windsor Castle.

I never had so satisfactory a perception of a complete booby before in my life, and it caused me to feel kindly towards him, and yet impatient and exasperated on behalf of common sense, which could not possibly tolerate that such an unimaginable donkey should exist. I laid his absurdity before him in the very plainest terms, but without either exciting his anger or shaking his resolution. "Oh, my dear man," quoth he, with good natured placid, simple and tearful stubbornness "if you could but enter into my feelings and see the matter from beginning to end as I see it!" To confess the truth, I have since felt that I was hard-hearted to the poor simpleton, and that there was more weight in his remonstrance than I chose to be sensible of, at the time; for, like many men who have been in the habit of making playthings or tools of their imaginations and sensibility, I was too rigidly tenacious of what was reasonable in the affairs of real life. And even absurdity has its rights, when, as in this case, it has absorbed a human being's entire nature and purposes. I ought to have transmitted him to Mr. Buchanan, in London, who, being a good-natured old gentleman, and anxious, just then, to gratify the universal Yankee nation, might, for the joke's sake, have got his admittance to the Queen, who had fairly laid herself open to his visit, and has received hundreds of our countrymen on infinitely slighter grounds. But I was inexorable, being turned to flint by the insufferable proximity of a fool, and refused to interfere with his business in any way except to procure him a passage home. I can see his face of mild, ridiculous despair, at this moment, and appreciate, better than I could then, how awfully cruel he must have felt my obduracy to be. For years and years, the idea of an interview with Queen Victoria had haunted his poor foolish mind, and now, when he really stood on English ground, and the palace door was hanging ajar for him, he was expected to turn back a pennyless and bamboozled simpleton, merely because an iron hearted consul refused to lend him thirty shillings (so low had his demand ultimately sunk) to by a second class ticket on the rail for London.

He visited the Consulate several times afterwards, subsisting on a pittance that I allowed him in the hope of gradually starving him back to Connecticutt, assailing me, with the old petition at every opportunity, looking shabbier at every visit, but still thoroughly good tempered, mildly stubborn and smiling through his tears, not without a perception of the ludicrousness of his own position. Finally, he disappeared altogether, and whither he had wandered, and whether he ever saw the Queen, or wasted quite away in the endeavor, I never knew; but I remember unfolding the Times, about that period, with a daily dread of reading an account of a ragged Yankee's attempt to steal into Buckingham Palace and how he smiled tearfully at his captors and besought them to introduce him to Her Majesty. I submit to Mr. Secretary Seward that he ought to make diplomatic remonstrance to the British Ministry, and require them to take such order that the Queen shall not any longer bewilder the wits of our poor compatriots by responding to their epistles and thanking them for their photographs

The mother of a little fellow who was about taking a ride in the Hartford horse cars, asked him as he scrambled in, "Why ain't you going to kiss your mother before you go?" The little rogue was in such a hurry that he couldn't stop, and hastily called out, "Conductor, won't you kiss mother for me?"

[illegible]

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES,

Passed at the Third Session of the Thirty Seventh Congress

[PUBLIC—No 99]

An Act to provide for the collection of abandoned property and for the prevention of frauds in insurrectionary districts within the United States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it shall be lawful for the Secretary of the Treasury from and after the passage of this act, as he shall from time to time see fit, to appoint a special agent or agents to receive and collect all abandoned or captured property in any State or Territory of the United States designated as in insurrection against the lawful Government of the United States by the proclamation of the President of July 1st, 1862: Provided, That such property shall not include any kind or description which has been used, or which was intended to be used, for waging or carrying on war against the United States, such as arms, ordnance, ships, steamboats or other water craft and the furniture, forage, military supplies or munitions of war.

Sec 2 And be it further enacted, That any part of the goods or property received or collected by such agent or agents may be appropriated to public use on due appraisement and certificate thereof, or forwarded to any place of sale within the loyal States, as the public interests may require; and all sales of such property shall be at auction to the highest bidder, and the proceeds thereof shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States.

Sec 3 And be it further enacted, That the Secretary of the Treasury may require the special agents appointed under this act to give bonds, with such securities and in such amount as he shall deem necessary, and to require the increase of said amounts and the strengthening of said security, as circumstances may demand; and he shall also cause a book or books of account to be kept showing from whom such property was received, the cost of transportation and proceeds of the sale thereof. And any person claiming to have been the owner of any such abandoned or captured property may, at any time within two years after the suppression of the rebellion, prefer his claim to the proceeds thereof in the Court of Claims; and on proof to the satisfaction of said court of his ownership of said property, of his right to the proceeds thereof, and that he has never given any aid or comfort to the present rebellion, to receive the residue of such proceeds, after the deduction of any purchase money which may have been paid, together with the expense of transportation and sale of said property, and any other lawful expenses attending the disposition thereof.

Sec 4 And be it further enacted, That all property coming into any of the United States not declared in insurrection as aforesaid, from within any of the States declared in insurrection, through or by any other person than any agent duly appointed under the provisions of this act, or under a lawful clearance by the proper officer of the Treasury Department, shall be confiscated to the use of the Government of the United States. And the proceedings for the condemnation and sale of any such property shall be instituted and conducted under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, in the mode prescribed by the eighty ninth and ninetieth sections of the act of March 2d, 1799, entitled "An act to regulate the collection of duties on imports and tonnage." And any agent or agents, person or persons, by or through whom such property shall come within the lines of the United States unlawfully, as aforesaid, shall be judged guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $1,000 or imprisoned for any time not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. And the fines, penalties, and forfeitures accruing under this act may be mitigated or remitted in the mode prescribed by the act of March 3d, 1797, or in such manner, in special cases, as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

Sec 5 And be it further enacted, That the fifth section of the "Act to further provide for the collection of the revenue upon the Northern, Northeastern, and Northwestern frontier, and for other purposes," approved July 14th, 1862, shall be so construed as to allow the temporary officers which have been or may be appointed at ports which have been or may be opened or established in States declared to be in insurrection by the proclamation of the President on the 1st of July, 1862, the same compensation which by law is allowed to permanent officers of the same position, or the ordinary compensation of special agents, as the Secretary of said Treasury may determine.

Sec 6 And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of every officer or private of the regular or volunteer forces of the United States, or any officer, sailor, or marine in the naval service of the United States upon the inland waters of the United States, who may take or receive any such abandoned property, or cotton, sugar, rice or tobacco, from persons in such insurrectionary districts, or have it under his control, to turn the same over to an agent appointed as aforesaid, who shall give a receipt therefor; and in case he shall refuse or neglect so to do he shall be tried by a court martial, and shall be dismissed from the service, or, if an officer, reduced to the ranks, or suffer such other punishment as said court shall order, with the approval of the President of the United States.

Sec 7 And be it further enacted, That none of the provisions of this act shall apply to any lawful maritime prize by the naval forces of the United States.

Approved, March 12th, 1863.

Pittsburg, Pa, [illegible]
Dr J. C Ayer. Sir I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing Yours with great respect,
ED W PREBLE, Clerk of [illegible]

Bilious Disorders and Liver Com
Department of the Interior, Washington, D C,
Sir I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them Fraternally yours,
ALONZO BALL, M D, Physician of the [illegible]

Post Office, Hartland, [illegible] Co, [illegible]
Dr. Ayer Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better She then commenced taking your Pills which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here GEO J GRIFFIN, [illegible]

From Rev J V Himes [illegible]

Dr. Ayer Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Honored Sir I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism Notwithstanding I had the best physicians the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in [illegible] I tried your Pills Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

CONSUMPTION,

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects, and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure
